

New Mental Clinic Stated For City

Eventually Cover Whole Province

Edmonton will get its first full-time mental hygiene clinic in September, it was announced today by Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and welfare.

The clinic will offer free service. Purpose of the clinic is to assist parents and schoolteachers with children whose home or school behavior is not entirely normal. Children who are retarded, or backward, or whose activity is undesirable, may be brought to the clinic for observation.

Head of the mental hygiene clinic will be Dr. A. R. Schrag, Edmonton psychiatrist, who formed the Calgary clinic last April.

ALBERTA GRAD

Dr. Schrag, graduate of Alberta University, has had special post-graduate training in mental hygiene, and has specialized in guidance work with children.

Clinic will be located temporarily in Edmonton's Provincial Building.

Up to the present time, clinics have been held once a week by officials of the Oliver Mental Institute.

The mental hygiene clinic will be the first full-time clinic ever located in Edmonton.

Clinic service will be extended throughout Alberta as soon as staff is available.

Total of five clinics are planned for the province. Future clinics will be located in Northern Alberta, probably the Peace River country.

Danish Shipman Arrives In City

Pay his first visit to Edmonton since before the war, J. C. Berthelsen, manager of Gdynia America Steamship line, is here on business from New York City.

Mr. Berthelsen is conferring with Canadian National and Canadian Pacific agents for his Steamship line, and the Danish Vice-consul in Edmonton, Carl Gundertsen.

He also plans to call on Hon. A. J. Hoake, provincial minister of economic affairs, who organized large-scale selected immigration of Danes to Canada.

In the eastern part of the province, and one more in the north.

Schools, and welfare organizations will assist in setting up a system of sub-centres, so that the entire province will be covered by the clinic.

Calgary clinic now serves 20 sub-centres.

Such child guidance work was begun in Alberta in 1929, and Dr. H. M. Ross, deputy minister of health, told The Bulletin today that the province is recognized as a pioneer in this work.

Campus Is Bustling With Summer Doings

By Bruce Power

The green awards and granite buildings of the University of Alberta are bustling with activity in the first week of this year's summer school session.

After a two-months' lull, the University spring to life this week as nearly 1,400 students streamed onto the campus from all parts of the province to take six-week summer courses.

With the accent on the faculty of education more than 1,200 teachers will attend classes while their pupils are on summer vacation.

Only 126 students are registered in arts and science.

Most students are outnumbered by co-ed 728 to 60, giving the campus ladies a surplus of 63.

Director of this year's session is the faculty of education's G. M. Dunlop.

First classes began Monday after noon as students heard top-rate lectures brought to the summer school from South Africa, the U.S. and various parts of Canada.

Student teachers will hear a special address by Dean M. E. Laxton on the crisis in schools today, 10 a.m. Saturday.

Residences filled to near-capacity with all students are brimming with bull sessions, playing telephones and horsing in the halls.

Harnessed house committees are working out seating plans for luncheon in the dining halls.

Social events, sport activities and club affairs are being organized by elected student representatives.

Director campus activities for the summer are five members on the students' council elected Wednesday.

Executives for the summer are president, W. Roy Eyrre; vice-pres-

In that time the industry has grown from a small project, of about 180 fur ranches, to its present total of 1,800.

Crop Outlook Improves As Rains Add Moisture

Two Brothers Cycle Through 13 Countries

More than a year of time and $7,000 miles of road have rolled under the bicycle wheels of two Brazilian brothers now in Edmonton en route to Alaska.

They are Pedro, 27, and Carlos, 22, Rosalvo, who are on the last lap of their trip from Buenos Aires to Fairbanks. The last lap, that is, before they turn around and start to peddle home.

The two sturdy adventurers began their trip on June 3, 1946, and since that time have pedaled their way through 34 bicycle tires and 13 countries.

Employment Office On New Hours

Officers of the National Employment Service have adopted summer hours for the months of July and August, according to W. G. Peterson, Edmonton director of the service.

During the two months the office will be operating Saturday mornings by a skeleton staff to handle only necessary and urgent services.

Describing it as "a very good rain", the minister said that reports telephoned to him indicate that the feed situation in the north part of the province has been "considerably helped" by the rains.

It is not known yet how much crops will benefit from the rains.

Canmore district also reported good rains, Mr. Ure stated.

Mr. Wilson, field crops commissioner, returned Thursday from a tour of the south and southeast parts of the province.

He told The Bulletin today that "there could be a fair crop if they get rain."

Stating that those regions need a good rain, Mr. Wilson said that even if rain should come, the crop would still be late.

If dry weather remains, there would be anything," said the field crops commissioner.

However, he added that he did not want to be pessimistic enough to say that there won't be any crop at all.

Grasshopper damage in the south has been less than one percent, said Mr. Wilson.

One Man Held Following Crash

Mike Simogard is being held on a charge of dangerous driving, following a two-car head-on collision at 8th Avenue and 114th Street, Friday afternoon.

Eric Wannacott, 11904 105th street, was to be the driver of the other car involved in the accident, was driving to his wedding, he told.

Both Wannacott's car and that allegedly operated by Simogard were badly damaged.

No one was injured.

A Crucial Day For Edmonton

The whole civic future of Edmonton depends upon what the city council does next Monday afternoon with the aldermanic proposal to call in outside professional experts to make a survey of the city's affairs.

Edmonton is ailing. Every citizen recognizes that fact and thousands of them have said so in plain emphatic terms.

The streets are in a deplorable mess. The water distribution system is highly inadequate.

Edmonton residents are not getting those services enjoyed by residents of cities of comparable size and much fewer natural advantages.

Edmonton taxpayers are not getting their money's worth.

So Edmonton is ailing, and the decision which faces the city council is whether to call in a reputable and experienced civic doctor or to apply the old home-made common politeness of alibis and excuses that has been the ineffective specific for Edmonton's disorders for years.

Edmonton aldermen recognize the crisis as clearly as anyone else.

And it to the eternal credit of Alderman J. H. Ogilvie K.C. and his colleagues that, instead of resenting the public criticism of the administration as crystallized in The Edmonton Bulletin, they have prepared a resolution to authorize the civic survey as demanded.

This is a full demonstration of public-spiritedness and those who support the resolution calling for a survey will earn the gratitude and respect of Edmonton people for all time.

Most cities of enterprise and ambition pass through these stages of administrative ineptitude where it is necessary to summon expert aid to flatten out the ruts.

That is why firms that specialize in this work find their services constantly in demand.

It is the progressive-minded cities that call them in because cities that have no great future can afford to be content with home-made remedies.

But Edmonton has a tremendous future. Surrounded by vast natural resources and scenic beauties, it can become one of the finest, richest, happiest, loveliest cities on this North American continent.

Is it to remain in the doldrums of stagnancy or move along to its great destiny?

The city council will decide that on Monday.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Job For Crusader

Editor, Bulletin.—There is so much to do and so little time in which to do it that one wonders why so many unimportant things take up our time while the most important ones are neglected.

For a while I have tried to stick up interest in a suggestion. The vision of the UN charter, especially that part of it known as the Security Council, the logical place for such action would be the UN, in Canada, but that organization is as dead as a petri dish in the Mojave Desert.

It would seem that action must come as it has in the USA—from some outside force where no honorary membership exists to stifle any such action.

No one can fail to see the need of reviving the work of the organization. The work of the organization is to be the force with the farthest thing the Russian has made of it. If Russia wants to stay in under a revised charter that will stop her nuclear actions, then the door should be left wide open to her.

Without God there would be no world, no humanity, not even existence. God is behind and above everything. In Him and of Him is all life—in this world and the next.

There is No Slanted News

We agree with Mr. McEwen writes, that "essentially the freedom of the press is simply the freedom of the newspaper on the basis of the news."

But our agreement does not mean that the publisher, as a cog in a machine, is not free to choose what he publishes. It is not so moved by what he publishes as he is by what he advertises.

Business and labor must learn to discipline themselves or face the fact that the individual conditions of their own making shall appear a new force to do it for them!

Our democracy, if it is to survive, and yet hold fast to basic human rights, must work out some way which will permit the group and the individual with a feeling of responsibility as to what they are doing.

Our democracy, if it is to survive, and yet hold fast to basic human rights, must work out some way which will permit the group and the individual with a feeling of responsibility as to what they are doing.

Crooked Approach

McEwen's kind of argument strikes me as one of the two grave weaknesses of the approach to the Tribune's attack.

The tone of voice is a gargantuan, filled more with the sound of a hammer than of a pen, grasping me by the lapels and shouting a string of clichés and platitudes.

It is not so much the tone of voice as the attitude of mind that is the constant and deadly reference to the Soviet as one of the "free enterprise" nations.

Indeed, I find myself as critical of the Tribune's approach as I am of the "free enterprise" nations. It is a pity that the Tribune's approach is so far from being an undesirable freedom than the Pacific Tribune.

Alberta Gas For Alberta People

Alarming figures are quoted by W. J. Dick, well-known Edmontonian, nearer, to show that the piping of natural gas out of Alberta would very easily become a provincial calamity.

The present consumption of natural gas in Alberta, says Mr. Dick, is 49 billion cubic feet a year. Projected pipelines would increase that annual consumption to 155 billion cubic feet.

At this latter rate of consumption, proven reserves would last for only nine years and proven and probable reserves combined would last for only 23 years.

A further important factor in the situation is that domestic consumption will increase substantially with the establishment of new industries in the province.

Indeed, Alberta's natural gas is one of the great advantages calculated to attract new industries to this province. Conversely, the depletion of natural gas could only tend to drive new industries away.

It would be the height of absurdity to permit the export of gas which would encourage the development in Manitoba of industries which otherwise would take root in Alberta.

All Life is a Gift of God

"The gift of God is eternal life," wrote St. Paul to the Romans.

He meant, of course, that immortality as it is enjoyed in heaven becomes the reward of those earthly persons who do the will of God and follow the teachings of Christ.

But while this fact is recognized by all persons with any religious inclinations, it is sometimes forgotten that even earthly life is also a gift of God.

All life is a gift of God. And all things that pertain to life are gifts of God.

There is a disposition to think vaguely that because people come into the world through a biological process that they are indebted to some nebulous thing called science for their existence.

People think of their lives as something they acquire through a personal right.

Man has no sovereign right to anything anywhere. Everything he is and everything he has is given him by God and he holds these things at God's pleasure.

The fact is that every human being is utterly dependent upon God for the air he breathes, the food he eats and the sunshine that gives him life.

Without God there would be no world, no humanity, not even existence. God is behind and above everything. In Him and of Him is all life—in this world and the next.

Better Treatment For Our Prime Ministers

Prime Minister Mackenzie King made a final suggestion for a government that seems to be founded in good reason and common sense.

That suggestion was that some official residence be provided for the prime ministers of this country.

It is a thought, in my point of view, redolent of barbarity, had passed out with Elbert Hubbard and his famous Message to Man.

For surely no person in his right mind could believe in the tonal qualities of words.

To me it is extremely doubtful if even Lincoln could have performed his superb acts of statesmanship from the left side of the street, as they were rejected by the person to whom they were rejected.

As Mr. King explained, his own dislike to the word "minister" was lessened by the personal gift to himself by Lady Laurier of Laurier House in Ottawa.

Even then, Mr. King pointed out, he had to depend upon the generosity of friends to furnish Laurier House because the purchase of adequate quarters was quite beyond his personal means.

The prime minister admitted, with great candor, that even with a free house and free furniture the upkeep of the establishment was a severe drain on his resources.

Bond of Humanity
It will perhaps delight a certain type of mind to know that even prime ministers must share with the masses of their fellow citizens the worries and anxieties of personal financing.

That the holder of the highest office in the land must also get the meat bill will be regarded by some, not only as a prime of good nature, but as a concession made by the great and the small.

But whatever poetic and humanitarian merits the situation may possess, it is a doubtful fact that it is a good thing when a prime minister's responsibilities to have on his shoulders the additional burden of financial worry.

The good Ottawa Journal pointed out, in this connection, that "household and financial worries may contribute to the building of a prime minister's character as they contribute to the character of anyone else."

FREEDOM'S NEWS

The American note to Moscow, demanding that the Soviet Union immediately lift the food blockade of Western Europe, is a business which is the only language the Bolsheviks understand.

It is perhaps the most forceful communication ever laid before the post-war Muscovites.

It isn't belittled and it isn't laughed at. It leaves no doubt that the United States has taken a serious and isn't taking any more.

Similar points were sounded simultaneously by both Britain and France.

Of this scheme the Washington note warns that the United States is not compelled by "threats, promises or other external considerations to abandon its rights in Berlin and later in this city."

It is intolerable that any one should sign to peoples of any nationality who are willing, as our forefathers, to come to this country to build new agricultural communities and eventually new urban centers.

Only people from any or all nations who are willing to take this sacrifice and effort are of any great potential value as citizens to Canada.

To them in toil and effort will come the fruits of their own labor. To those to whom they place their loyalty and sense of ownership.

With certain exceptions, we can produce, and during the war did produce, highly skilled technicians, equal to any elsewhere, from our own citizens.

Our universities turn out men of science and professions to the point where many have to emigrate to the United States to find outlets for their professions.

When the Germans came to Canada, they forgot they had to have human rights, and remembered they were "Canadian." This is not advice for all races and creeds coming to or now living in Canada.

Our democracy, if it is to survive, and yet hold fast to basic human rights, must work out some way which will permit the group and the individual with a feeling of responsibility as to what they are doing.

Childish Nonsense

Editor, Bulletin.—In reading the comment of Premier Manning in The Bulletin July 7, 1948, concerning the "childish nonsense" of the United States note to Moscow, I was struck by the irony of the situation.

Attendance Marks Fall at Stampede

American and Canuck Cowhands Make Final Bid For Honors

CALGARY, July 10.—(CP)—American and Canadian Rangeland athletes were making a final bid for cash and glory today as the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede entered the last day of one of the most successful shows in its 36-year-old history.

Lariat experts had their eyes trained on a new calf roping record of 13.15 seconds set by Claude Henson of Chandler, Ariz.

The wary cowboy electrified the history of the Stampede yesterday as he clipped 1.5 second off the former Stampede mark of 15 years ago by the late Bob Cross of Kenna, N.M.

ALL-TIME RECORD
The 74,000 spectators who jammed their way past the turnstiles at "Children's Day" yesterday shattered the former all-time day high of 71,864 established last year. It marked the fifth straight day that day attendance marks had topped.

The call roping contest also provided the biggest upset of the Stampede to date when Ed Coffey of Burbank, Calif., failed to catch his calf and dropped from the first of the three go-rounds for the North American championship. Coffey, winner of the title, was not favorite to take the title.

remained favorite to win the world's chuckwagon title tonight despite ending up third in last night's competition. His total time for the first five rounds of the competition is six minutes 19.25 seconds.

Defending champion Johnny Phelan of Red Deer, Alta., is trailing by 4 3/5 seconds with Jack Lauder of Elkhora, Alta., third with a total time of 6:27.3.

The Buckhorn Ranch outfit from Poudre Creek, Alta., winter of the money yesterday, is trailing with a time of 6:31.25.

NECK-AND-NECK RACE
Wit Grellis of Husky Diamond, Alta., Buck Wyatt of Omaha, Neb., and Jim Shindler of Tulsa, Okla., are running a neck-and-neck race for both riding honors with the championship hanging on the outcome of rides later today.

Defending champion Jim Like of Kim, Okla., still is in a contention position in the North American saddle bronch riding event. Others close to the top are Gene Pruitt, Yakima, Wash. and Bill Linderman, Red Lodge, Mont.

First Channel Tunnel Digger Still on Guard

By Norman Cribbens

DOVER, Kent, England, July 10.—(CP)—The first man to start digging a tunnel under the English Channel 67 years ago still guards the unfinished shaft from a cottage standing at the foot of towering Shakespeare cliffs—one of the famous White Cliffs of Dover.

He is 87-year-old Charles Gatehouse, clear-eyed, active and as enthusiastic as when he and 50 other engineers tunneled 1 1/4 miles under the channel from this side in 1901. He seems heartened by the fact that a British parliamentary committee is considering the engineering, economic and strategic issues involved and may reintroduce the long-debated project in the House of Commons.

"If a man believes in a thing he shouldn't let anything hold him off," said the white-haired veteran, leaning on his cane, he stood outside his kitchen door gazing across the grey, choppy sea.

WOULD BE SIMPLER
"Both British and French engineers have agreed that the construction of two main railway tunnels under the channel at a cost of between £45,000,000 (£100,000,000) and £65,000,000 would be simpler now than it was before the war."

"It would be well worth the expense for all the time and trouble saved. Think of all the continental folk who would visit this country if it weren't for the rough sea crossing."

"The tunnel is 160 feet below here," Gatehouse said, "and even in 1881 when he worked with compass and air we could not get it 12 feet in. With modern machinery we could tunnel half a mile in that time."

"My idea is that we should start

5 Russian Masses Will Learn To Fly

MOSCOW, July 10.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. V. P. Kamanin was quoted in several newspapers yesterday as saying the mass of Russians will be given every opportunity to learn to fly. Kamanin is chief of the voluntary society for assistance of the air force. He advocated extensive glider and parachute sports throughout Russia.

the tunnel near London—link it up with the underground railways—and come up close to Paris."

Of the pioneer times he said: "We worked in two shifts—12 hours at a time. After about 18 months the government stopped the tunnel—on grounds of security, I believe."

MANY YEARS AGO

J. W. Jamieson, local historian, said the tunnel was first suggested by Napoleon in 1802.

"Many English statesmen were enthusiastic but, of course, the Napoleonic wars killed the idea. When it was revived in 1884 many objected that it might lead to the slipping up of the Thames estuary."

Famous people who have championed the tunnel include Queen Victoria, Winston Churchill, Marshal Foch and Prince Albert.

Canadians Plunge Ahead In Science Asserts Expert

By Douglas How

OTTAWA, July 10.—(CP)—History will judge Canada's "revolutionary" rise from scientific adolescence to maturity as one of the major factors—and possibly the major factor—of her wartime development, the government's top scientific figure prophesied today.

Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, president of the National Research Council and head of the Atomic Energy Control Board, said the Dominion now "is in the front line of the scientific world for the first time in any sensible way."

"This, he said in an interview, is little heralded by publicity and little known by the general public, but it extends well beyond the renowned field of atomic energy into the world realm of chemistry and physics, biology and engineering."

CHANGED SITUATION

For years, generations of Canadians have been trooping to foreign lands to study under the great minds of Oxford, Cambridge and other universities.

Under the impact of war, the picture changed; study has become a two-way street.

The NRC, the defence research board and the universities possessed men with world reputations, the surest magnet for ambitious minds. (It may be inserted here that Dr. O. M. Solandt, Canada's top military scientist, is so good that several other countries have tried to hire him away.)

Canadians, particularly in the virgin realm of atomic energy, were plunging ahead. They have at Chalk River, for instance, a heavy water radioactive pile whose density of neutrons or nuclear bullets allows them to make tests that can not be duplicated anywhere.

FOREIGN EXPERTS

Dr. Mackenzie said there now are more than two dozen men of foreign nationalities doing advanced research and study in Canada and there are other applications to the NRC four or five times greater than it can handle.

He disclosed one of the world's top half dozen men in the field of band spectroscopy, a branch of physics, is leaving the University of Chicago to work for the council.

He is Dr. Gerhardt Hertberg, a German who fled to Canada from Hitler terror, worked for a time at the University of Saskatchewan, only to join the southward trek. Now he is coming back.

CALGARY, July 10.—(CP)—The Calgary Liberal nominating convention will not be held until the date of the next provincial election has been announced, D. J. Young, an official of the Calgary Liberal Association, announced last night. The convention earlier had been scheduled for July 13.

Calgary independents will nominate July 14, and the Social Credit convention for Calgary is tentatively set for July 19.

Wild and Woolly West Lives Again

Night of Flying Shots, Knives Recounted in Wayburn Court

WEYBURN, Sask., July 10.—(CP)—The woolly west in all its wildness lived again yesterday for a packed courtroom.

A witness in a Royal Canadian Mounted Police hearing unfolded in his testimony a night of alleged discharging of shot gun, flying knives, beer bottles uncapped by teeth and a woman's devotion to a man.

Erving Martinson, sergeant at Middle, 30 miles southwest of the south-eastern Saskatchewan city, told of being forced at shotgun point June 21, into the car of village blacksmith Pete Prediger.

In the back yard of Prediger's home, Martinson was forced to drink one of two bottles of beer Prediger uncapped with his teeth. The latter then pointed his shotgun into the air and fired.

Martinson testified the shot drew Ruby Nichol—described as Prediger's common-law wife—from the house. She threw a knife at the car window nearest Martinson and attempted to enter the vehicle.

Prediger later drove him home and said his life was not worth a snap of his fingers if he squealed, Martinson said.

Ruby Nichol told the court she had lived with Prediger almost three years as his common-law wife and had received stone bruises. She said she had gotten in the way of things thrown at her.

The case is continuing.

Tartary, a vast area overrun by the Tartars in the Middle Ages, stretched from the Sea of Japan to the Dnieper river and comprised all of Central Asia and Eastern Europe.

KILLER CAUGHT

Here's What Reporters Dream Of

OAKLAND, Calif., July 10.—(AP)—"You're in our way!" yelled reporter Sam Blumenfeld to a motorist who stopped ahead of him. Blumenfeld and photographer Paul Burgess just had jumped into their automobile at the Oakland police station to track down a report of a killing.

"Wait a minute, I just killed a man," said the other driver, coming to Blumenfeld's automobile with a .45 calibre pistol in his hand.

"On Myrtle street?" asked the surprised Blumenfeld.

"Yeah, take this thing, you bastards," came the answer, and the gun was shoved into Burgess' hand.

GABLE AND BLONDE WORRY SHIP CHIEFS

NEW YORK, July 10.—(AP)—The lingering farewell of Clark Gable, film star, and a tall, willowy blonde threw pier officials into a dither yesterday at the sailing of the Queen Mary.

While those responsible for the departure for the giant liner glanced nervously at their watches, the couple prevented stevedores from lifting the gangplank by their adieux.

Finally Gable's companion, whom he identified as Mrs. Howard Hawks, estranged wife of the Hollywood producer, ran down the gangplank, the last to leave the ship.

Although Cunard White Star officials said lifting of the gangplank was delayed "a few minutes", they pointed out proudly that even fond farewells can't keep the liner from sailing on time.

into the station. Police booked him as Louis Smith, 38, and held him for investigation.

Officers quoted Smith as saying he shot his best friend, William Allen, 42, because Allen "was talking about me too much." Police said the men had argued over a leaking lexbox.

British Laborite Due In City

Sir Godfrey Ince, secretary to the British Minister of Labor, will be in Edmonton this week-end for conferences with Dominion labor department officials.

P. I. Cameron, federal department of labor in Edmonton, will meet Sir Godfrey at Banff and drive him over the Lake Louise-Jasper route to Edmonton.

Sir Godfrey has been representing Great Britain at the International Labor Organization conference in San Francisco.

The British peer will be accompanied by A. How, technical advisor to the British Ministry of Labor.

City Resident Loses $2,900

CALGARY, July 10.—(CP)—Theft of $2,900 from James Ervin Wylie of Edmonton is under police investigation.

Wylie, an Edmonton equipment dealer, said he was robbed between 1:30 p.m. Thursday and 8:15 a.m. yesterday. No arrests have been made.

"The Edmonton man said he completed a deal with another Edmonton resident recently and was paid $2,900 in $100 bills. The pair then motored to Calgary to obtain some additional machinery."

The equipment man had the $2,900 in his trouser pocket, Thursday, he told police. He was partying with others in a downtown hotel and did not remember much until he woke up in his automobile on a parking lot and found his money gone.

Police found a wallet and appearance in $100 in cheques lying on the rear seat of the car.

Wylie said he could have been robbed while he was sleeping in the car.

Democrats Join Behind Truman

Eisenhower Out of Picture For Presidential Nomination

By Clyde Blackburn
WASHINGTON, July 10.—(CP)—President Truman no matter what the electors may do to him next Nov. 2, will be president for the next six months and that period may present more dangerous situations than have arisen since V-day.

The midsummer madness that sent the Democratic party in scattered groups seeking an alternative presidential candidate, today seemed to be waning.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at last said the necessary words to discourage completely those who insisted that they would put his name in nomination at next week's Democratic convention in Philadelphia.

The broken ranks of the party seemed to be closing in behind Truman as the candidate who will be chosen on the first ballot and the man with whom they must win the battle of the hot political slaps.

With that problem apparently solved, the two major parties now must decide on campaign plans and their planning must take into consideration the war dangers in Palestine, in Berlin and on other scattered places.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Are you a theatre jester? Of course, you know what a theatre jester is. That's a combination of jerk and pest who makes life miserable for the average patrons who want to see a movie in peace and quiet. Movie manners have become so bad in recent years that many customers are going to pictures less often because they can't stand these pesky jesters.

I consulted a friend of mine, manager of a local first-run film house. I found him a broken man.

I have classified his complaints and added a few of my own in the following jerse.

COMPLAINTS CLASSIFIED

1. Corn Chomper. "This character tries to see how many decidible he can get out of a bag of popcorn."
2. Knee nudgers. He likes to thump up the back of your seat with his knees. By the end of the show you feel as though you've taken a vibrator course.
3. H. V. Kallenborn, Jr. This bush-league know-how has been named on the entire picture. He's taken a vibrator course.
4. Love loathers. While they're trying to watch the picture, they're picking nasty woo.
5. Seat arm monopolists. He demands full right of both seat arms and will jab you until he gets his way.
6. Peppin prankster. This lame-brain takes pleasure in peeing chewing gum on seats so the next squatter will get stuck.
7. The shifter. He's the guy in front of you who does a sitting St. Vitus Dance.
8. Seat sprawler. This lanky loud demand a diameter of three seats in all directions. He should be made to pay for them.

Actress Carole Landis Will Be Buried Today

HOLLYWOOD, July 10.—(AP)—Carole Landis will be buried today in a cemetery overlooking Hollywood, the city that brought her fame and heartbreak.

Hundreds of movie stars and fans were expected to throng up the Forest Lawn cemetery hill to pay final tribute to the blonde star who killed herself Monday.

Two movie stars—Gloria Swanson and Paul O'Brien—were among the pall-bearers. Others were good professional Lou Wessner, makeup man Ben Nye and writer Willard British.

Her star Rex Harrison said he and his wife would be among the mourners. Harrison, who Hollywood gossip said had been romancing Miss Landis, left her four hours before she swallowed a fatal dose of sleeping pills.

The death was officially entered on the Coroner's records as a suicide yesterday, and both the District Attorney's office and grand jury said they planned no further inquiries.

Official interest in the case ended. Coroner Ben Brown said, when Harrison's statement at an "informal" inquest failed to uncover any motive for her sudden suicide.

Japs Still Don't Know War Is Over

TOKYO, July 10.—(AP)—Two Japanese soldiers who recently surrendered on Guam said yesterday that about 20 more Japanese soldiers who do not know the war is over are roaming the island, and that they found a newspaper with accounts of American occupying Japan.

Television Adds To Ring's Troubles

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—Abe J. Greene, president of the National Boxing Association, warned Thursday that boxing had better put up its dukes and start fighting, or the sport will die a slow but certain death.

One of the reasons, television, Greene said.

"Of all the sports, boxing is the best from the viewpoint of television presentation. The challenge, the action in the sport, therefore, is to make it as exciting as the genuine thing will be attracted from the vast and growing television audience."

Another reason for boxing's troubles, Greene said, is that the sport is being defended by its title often enough.

Cement Blocks Will Be Used To Guard Against Second Fire

BEAVERLODGE, July 10.—The new building program for the town got under way here this week when excavations were started in Fire Zone No. 1 along the main street. This is the beginning of plans made following the quarter million dollar fire loss which this town suffered last month.

A large block, which will accommodate several business establishments, will be erected here. The block will be equipped with a central heating plant, and other operating expenses will reach a minimum as a result of the co-operative effort. Cement building blocks will be used in the construction, and every precaution will be taken for prevention. Excavations have been completed for the basement of the new modern store to be erected here on the corner of Main St. and Third Ave. The Central Co-operative Association.

This building will be fifty by sixty feet, making ample room for a full line of merchandise. It will also be equipped with modern plumbing and electric wiring. The base grade has been placed along the first block of main street, and cement sidewalks will soon be a reality. This construction is a result of plans made by the town council at the annual meeting held last spring.

If You Can Read
You Can Cook
This Day and Age
Preparing meals gets easier and easier. And the day is fast dawning when young men will be far more interested in lady's reading ability than her prowess at the kitchen range.
For the entire situation has come to the point where, if you can read directions on cans and packages, it goes without saying you can turn out an appetizing meal. Anything from soup to pie or cake is readymade in the grocery's shelves.
And rare indeed is the girl or woman who can't turn a few packages of canned, ready-made or frozen foods into a modern-day version of a feast fit for a king.

BRIDGE

Squeeze Play Wins

Slam in No Trump

By William E. McKeeney
So many businessmen play tournament bridge today that it is unusual to walk into a store or office and find an argument going on over the last evening's hand. Jon Sanford, who is associated with a haberdashery firm on New York's Fifth Avenue, is very popular among tournament players. When the boys drop in to buy a new tie or shirt they naturally get into a discussion of hands. Sanford, in connection with today's hand, Sanford justified his seven no-

Oldtime Hockey

Star is Dead

WOODSTOCK, Ont., July 10.—(CP)—Ed. Ernest (Gene) Parke, 35 well-known Canadian sportsman died here yesterday. He had been ill one month.
Parke was a member of the Vancouver Millionaires from 1921 to 1923. He joined Kitchener with the Allan Cup in 1918.
He later became an enthusiastic hockey fan and was a member of the Kitchener Club four in 1920.
A native of Victoria, he turned professional in 1921 with Vancouver.

going to make the contract. He did not think that East, who was a very conservative player, would have made a vulnerable overcall of even one heart without at least the king-queen of hearts and king of spades.

Sanford won the king of hearts, then laid down four diamond-tricks and six club tricks. This left him with the ace and queen of spades and in dummy the six of spades and jack of hearts. Reasoning that East was down to the blank king of spades and king of hearts, Sanford led dummy's spade, went up with the ace, caught the king, and the queen of spades was good for the third trick.

The paddle wheel derives its name from the fact it originally consisted of a series of paddles, or paddle-like spokes, inserted in an axle drum or wheel.

Suicide Wave At Vancouver

VANCOUVER, July 10.—(CP)—A theory held by the medical profession that suicide of a prominent person leads to a wave of violence appears borne out here.

Since the death of pianist and star Carol Landis in her Hollywood home, there have been four suicides and two attempted ones here.

ALWAYS POTENTIALS

"There are always potential suicides in our midst—people who are wavering," said a psychiatrist, Dr. Campbell. "The notice taken of a prominent person focuses their attention on themselves and they cannot be left."

Army pals, Robert Bruce Bailey, 26, and Irvine McKim, 22, died in a gas-filled hotel room here a week after jumping 50 feet to their deaths from a bridge, and a young fisherman killed himself as he dived in his boat on the Fraser river.

All had opportunity to read of the slaying-gift deaths of Miss Landis.

Police reports indicated that Bailey and his room had entered a house suicide pact, but details were not disclosed.

"I think my son was just fed up with life," said Mrs. Thomas McKim. "It may have something to do with their army experiences. The army can do strange things to a person."

Dr. Campbell said suicides appeared to run in cycles.

Police reported that a 19-year-old girl who attempted to jump from a bridge had taken interest in recent reports of suicides.

"I think it could be reasonably said," added Dr. Campbell, "that publicity which results from a prominent person committing suicide is a cause."

Prairie Timber Eases Britain's Building

By James McCook

LONDON, July 10.—(CP)—Saskatchewan and Manitoba spruce now is being used to ease Britain's housing shortage and importers hope for more prairie's housing timber if dollar-purchase allocations are allowed by the government, Graham Stry, Saskatchewan agent-general in the United Kingdom, said in an interview.

The first shipment of 500,000 feet of northern lumber was made via the Hudson Bay route last year, the largest share from Manitoba. The British dollar-purchase program and availability of shipping via the Hudson Bay route caused uncertainty over shipments in 1948 although British buyers and they would like more.

ALL THAT MEAT AND NO POTATOES

BOSTON, July 10.—(AP)—The French handler of five yearling horses en route from Paris to New York by plane came into East Boston airport minus one of his ears Thursday.

Eugene Elapian, 22, of Paris, reported one of the animals bit the ear off while the plane was flying from Paris to Shannon, Eire, airport. He received treatment in Shannon.

The names of the consignor and consignee were not disclosed by the handler. He said the animals were to be used for show purposes.

U.S. Senate Rapped On Wheat Action

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—Agriculture Secretary Brannan said yesterday failure of the United States Senate to ratify the International Wheat Agreement "is an outstanding example of the irresponsibility of Congressional leaders."

The July 1 deadline for ratification passed without action by the Senate. Brannan called it "policy making by default."

"It is a failure to perform clear responsibilities," he said in a statement.

Shoplifting Wave Hits U.K. Stores

Total of $6,000,000 Worth Of Goods Is Stolen Annually

LONDON, July 10.—(CP)—Department stores are trying to stem what is described as the biggest tide of shoplifting the country has known. Shoplifting cases last year were up 40 per cent over 1946 and 50 per cent over 1938. A total of £1,500,000 ($6,000,000) worth of goods—mostly garments—was lifted annually.

London stores lost £12,000 ($48,000) in merchandise and only £3,100 worth was recovered. The majority of the 5440 cases heard before London courts last year were committed with a £5 fine and costs.

Store detectives say about 85 per cent of all shoplifting is done by women between 40 and 50 years old. Their favorite items are handkerchiefs, shoes and underwear. They usually hide the lifted articles under a coat slung over an arm, slip it into a bag, or cover it with a newspaper.

Police have estimated that kleptomaniacs and professional thieves make up only one-fifth of the total number of shoplifters. Two-fifths are first-timers and the other two-fifths are habitual amateurs whose range of thefts widens as their confidence grows.

Convicted shoplifters usually plead that rationing, shortage of coupons or a craving for excitement made them do it. But authorities say half the stolen articles are not on the ration list.

Vets' Bonanza Hits Mails Soon

OTTAWA, July 10.—(CP)—Bulk of a $2,000,000 bonanza for 30,000 Canadians will hit the mails the end of this month, the veterans' department said yesterday.

The cheques cover the increase Parliament voted in war veterans' allowances for aged and invalid veterans, widows of veterans and orphans.

Since the rise is retroactive to last Oct. 1, most of the cheques will be for $30.

The majority of the recipients will receive the full $10 a month increase—raising the maximum monthly cheque to $40 for single and $50 for married recipients. Others will not receive the full increase because of the means test. In these cases, investigations of files may delay the cheques for a short period.

U.S. Farm Crops Biggest in History

Outlook Now For More
And Cheaper Meat at Home

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—Prospects of the biggest general farm crop in history today gave American housewives and diplomats alike reason for rejoicing.

The outlook is for more and cheaper meat at home—eventually—plus full-scale grain shipments abroad, where food is a big factor in combating Communism.

RECORD CORN CROP

A record corn crop of 3,238,862,000 bushels, nearly 41,000,000 above the previous top crop of 1946, was forecast by the agriculture department late yesterday. This is far above last year's 2,600,000,000 bushels.

At the same time, the department predicted a wheat crop of 1,241,751,000 bushels, only some 123,000,000 bushels short of the record set last year.

The huge corn, wheat and other grain supplies will more than meet the needs of farmers who want to step up feeding of cattle, hogs and other meat producers.

Last year's poor corn crop was pointed to by department experts today this would save about 250,000 of the reason for the drop in this year's grain.

Surplus Potatoes To Feed Conquered

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—The United States army plans to use about 1,500,000 tons of surplus potatoes to make flour for use in feeding populations of the occupied zones of Germany and Japan. Army Secretary Kenneth Royal estimated today this would save about 250,000 of the reason for the drop in this year's grain.

KILLER BEAR which carried off and killed three-year-old Carol Ann Pomrankey at St. Ignace, Michigan, Wednesday, is shown with Michigan conservation officers who trailed and killed black raider.

RAINMAKER FOR STORM TAKES CREDIT

REGINA, July 10.—(CP)—Donald Johnson of Regina, self-styled rain maker, is taking credit for Regina's Wednesday night storm which poured down 1.71 inches of rain and flooded subways in the city.

Mr. Johnson operates, owns—and invented—the Universal scope, which operates in conjunction with moonbeams and thunderstorms to produce precipitation.

Mr. Johnson said he had been operating his machine continuously since leaving Medicine Hat, Alta., June 30.

His rain-making had been upset by dry-ice experiments at Moose Jaw, Sask., the first part of this week. He said these experiments had broken up the thunder clouds and diminished potency of his machine.

Lad, 14, Victim Of Shooting Accident

SASKATOON, July 10.—(CP)—Shut through the head by a .22-calibre bullet, 14-year-old Dale Thiborg died Thursday night while enroute here by government ambulance.

Death resulted from a berry-picking accident in the Fenton district, 20 miles southeast of Prince Albert.

Bill Dale and his brother Victor, 22, also of the berry expedition, are believed to have been carrying guns on their shoulders.

Red Military Mission Arrives in Albania

LONDON, July 10.—(AP)—Tass, the Soviet news agency, said last night a Russian military mission has arrived on Albanian soil.

Albania warned her neighbor Yugoslavia, this week she was taking "strong measures" to guard her borders against "hostile elements."

Tass, quoting the Albanian Telegraph agency, said the mission arrived in Tirana Thursday "for the purpose of participating in national military festivities."

The Communist recently charged Tito and his Communist supporters with deviation from the Marxist-Leninist line.

A dispatch from Bucharest said Romanian aid delivered to Yugoslavia have ceased.

On the propaganda front, Moscow radio broadcast an announcement by the Communist parties of Albania, Finland and Slovakia that they are behind the Cominform in the Yugoslav dispute.

Tass, Yugoslav news agency distributed an article defending Tito's leadership against what it calls "untruth and slanders."

Albania, meanwhile, rejected charges made by Yugoslavia in three protest notes last week, Tirana radio reported.

CANBEIRA.—(CP)—Poultry farmers in Australia will have more time on their flock racks this year. The urgent need to export has reduced available wheat for feed, while the oats crop is a record.

East Asks For Harvest Help

OTTAWA, July 10.—(CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell yesterday urged appeals for volunteer workers from Western Canada to help harvest Eastern crops.

Bumper crops are expected in Eastern Canada this year and early harvesting operations have begun, with a serious shortage of farm workers the result. Mr. Mitchell extended until July 20 the organized movement of workers from the west.

The flow of farm laborers from the western provinces and the Maritimes to Ontario, organized under the Dominion-Provincial Farm Labor movement, has not kept up with demand.

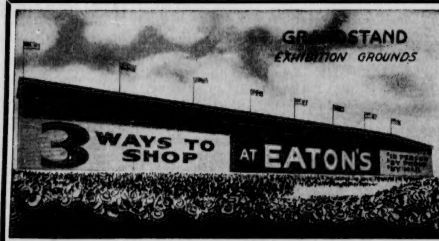

Ontario farmers need about 2,500 outside workers. So far less than 800 have turned up. Of them, 750 came from the prairies and 120 from the Maritimes.

Matches began to supercede the old flint and steel, or under box method of obtaining fire in the early part of the 19th century.
